

Héctor Rodríguez Ramírez

Biography

With a PhD in Social Science and a specialty in Population and Development from the Colegio de la Frontera Norte, he has worked for the Ministry of Planning and Economic Development of the Government of Aguascalientes and as a lead researcher at the Center for Socioeconomic Research of the University of Coahuila. He has taken part in several research projects with U.S. and European schools. His ongoing participation in publications makes him stand out as an expert in population and economics for development, and in quantitative methods.

Education

PhD in Social Science, El Colegio de la Frontera Norte, Mexico

Master in Population Studies, El Colegio de la Frontera Norte, Mexico

Degree in Economics, UAA

Areas of experience

Migration and Economic Development:

(2013). Evidencias Empíricas para la Reflexión Migración-Desarrollo: el caso de los migrantes mexicanos en Estados Unidos. Migraciones Internacionales, crisis y vulnerabilidades: perspectivas comparadas. El Colegio de la Frontera Norte. ISBN 978-607479.

(2012). Towards An Assessment Of Migration, Development And Human Rights Links: Conceptual Framework And New Strategic Indicators. International Network of Migration and Development.

(2012) The emergence of collective migrants and their role in Mexico's local and regional development. Canadian Journal of Development Studies (CJDS). Canada. December, 2012.

Public Policy and New Local Actors:

(2012). The Role of Mexican Migrants in Building a Public-policy Agenda. The Case of the 3x1 Program, Region and Society. El Colegio de Sonora. México. Abril. ISSN 1870-3925